I'm working in South Korea ... had my medical check which is required for foreign workers, and my eye exam came back 1.5 left eye and 1.5 right eye. The doctor at the time said I had very good eyesight (I wear contacts). What does that mean in like 20/20 terms? Do they use a different system in Korea? I haven't had an eye exam for years so I'm just curious how my vision is.

Proficiency Levels for Leadership Competencies

If you have an eye exam and are told you have 20/20 vision, does this mean you have perfect eyesight? Is it possible to achieve even better than 20/20 vision? And what is "perfect vision" anyway? To answer these questions, let's take a closer look at vision-related terminology to fully understand how eye doctors measure the quality of your vision.

What Is a Vision Statement? A vision statement is like a photograph of your future business, which gives your business shape and direction. A vision statement provides the direction and describes what the founder wants the organization to achieve in the future; it's more about the "what" of a business.
